Powell's City of Books
Perched on the corner of NW 10th and Burnside, four-stories tall and covering an entire city block, Powell's City of Books houses over a million new, used, and rare titles, all conveniently shelved side by side. From its humble beginnings in 1971, Powell's has become one of the biggest independent bookstores in the world, with five Portland-area locations and a renowned website.
Powells.com.
9am-11pm / Building ② 9am-9pm every day of the year

Author Readings + Booksignings
Every year hundreds of authors visit Powell's to read from their work, meet their fans, and sign thousands of books. To stay abreast of events or to preorder signed editions from visiting authors, check out our online calendar and sign up for our weekly Events email at www.powells.com/calendar.

Sell Us Your Books
Every day, Powell's buys books at our Portland-area stores and at our convenient NW warehouse location. We also buy books at Powells.com, offering payment in online credit or cash via PayPal. For more information and buying hours visit www.powells.com/sell.

In-Store Pickup
Let Powell's gather your books with our free in-store pickup service. Place your order online at Powells.com and choose in-store pickup as your shipping method when you check out. For details visit www.powells.com/pickup.

Powells.com
Did you know that Powells.com offers the combined inventory of Powell's five retail locations, plus that of five warehouses — approximately four million books in all? The site also features exclusive author interviews and essays, an exciting blog, and a stable of internationally respected book reviewers and content partners.
